Wild Virginia is proud to host the premiere of...

Won't Pipe Down
May 4 @ 7pm
Court Square Theater
Harrisonburg

Wild Virginia, the Sierra Club and JMU are teaming up to bring you a special screening of the new film Won't Pipe Down by four students at James Madison University about the fight against the proposed Atlantic Coast Pipeline.

Tickets are free, but please register here to save your seat.

The film is 30 minutes long and will include a panel with local activists and some of the film makers. The shorter version, released earlier, has already won honorable mention in the student short documentary category at the BEA Film Festival (Broadcast Education Association) and the student short documentary category at the William and Mary Global Film Fest.
