Secretary Thomasson:

You may have already seen some of the press but I wanted to reach out to you personally given our conversation back June regarding the air and water board appointments. The conservation community is deeply disappointed with decisions to remove Rebecca Rubin and Sam Bleicher from the air board this week. We are calling on the Governor to reverse his decision until the current board has finalized its deliberations on the pending air permit. The full joint-statement from the broader conservation community is below.

While there are many ways in which we have, and will continue to, work with this administration to promote and protect our clean air, water and natural resources, I believe today's decisions will erode public trust in the process setting us back - not moving us forward - on our shared vision of protecting the Commonwealth's environment.

Please don't hesitate to reach out if you have any questions or if you'd like to discuss this further.

Statewide Conservation Groups Call on Northam to Reverse Decision to Replace Air Board Members During Pending Permit Decision

RICHMOND - Today, Governor Northam's Secretary of the Commonwealth informed two Air Pollution Control Board members, Rebecca R. Rubin and Samuel A. Bleicher, that they would be removed from the Board. This comes just weeks before the body is expected to vote on a crucial air permit for Dominion Energy's Atlantic Coast Pipeline.

The removal of the members in the midst of debate is unusual, and concerning. The action comes less than a week after both Board members raised environmental justice concerns that pollution from Dominion's proposed project will cause disproportionate air pollution impacts to the people of Union Hill. Dominion Energy is proposing to build the 55,000 horsepower industrial compressor station in the historic, predominantly African American neighborhood.

The Air Pollution Control Board is comprised of citizen experts tasked with upholding specific environmental statutes related to clean air, including authorizing permits that regulate or protect against air pollution.

The air board is scheduled to continue deliberations and vote on the compressor station permit on Dec. 10. Both Bleicher and Rubin were informed today they would be removed from the Board before that vote.

Governor Northam has repeatedly stressed the need for transparency and independence in the pipeline permitting process. In April 2018, Governor Northam said, "You know I have a lot of faith and confidence in our DEQ, and I need to let them do their work. We need to do this with science we want to do it with the law and we want to do it with transparency." The removal of these members is in direct contradiction to these essential guiding principles.

In response, leading statewide conservation organizations issued the following joint statement:

"We are shocked and extremely disappointed in Governor Northam's decision to interrupt the Virginia Air Pollution Control Board's deliberation on the proposed Buckingham County compressor station. Removing citizen board members in the midst of contentious debate sends the wrong message. Citizen boards must remain independent from political interference during the decision-making process. We call on the Governor to reverse this decision until the current board has finalized its deliberations on the proposed permit."

Hey Ofirah,

Any chance you could help track down an answer to this?

I don't know if we're planning any specific follow-up stories, but I do think this is good context to have on the air/water board issue.

Thanks,

Hello Secretary Thomasson,

In light of the attention on the air board, I'm trying to make sure I understand how to interpret the list of vacant board and commission positions on your website.

<https://www.commonwealth.virginia.gov/va-government/boards-and-commissions/2018-appointment-openings/>

By my count, there are 174 vacancies listed for terms that have already expired, most of them on June 30 of this year. Would it be correct to conclude from that there are 174 people still serving whose terms are technically expired?

And do you have a total count for how many board and commission positions there are across all agencies and secretariats?

Thanks in advance,

We have been reviewing a field of very qualified applicants and the governor has arrived at his decision. The governor is exercising his statutory authority to appoint members of his choosing to these board seats.

I'd also note that we announce replacements and reappointments as we make them per the weekly appointments release each Friday.

Thanks. This is very helpful.

I think Patrick may have sent you some other questions about the timelines of when the new air/water board appointees applied.

These stats suggest to me that it's a complicated process and that the air/water board members who were replaced are not part of a small universe of people whose terms had expired.

Was refreshing these two boards a priority for the governor?

Why replace these members now during a big permitting decision if there are hundreds of other people who are in the same boat?

Graham,

Sorry for the delay. Ofirah touched base with me about your email yesterday afternoon--turns out it went to my spam folder. The appointments process is complicated, each board has different statutory requirements and there are many circumstances and caveats surrounding vacancies. I'll do my best to explain, on background:

There are 294 boards across state government that the Governor makes appointments to, per statute (not counting boards created by Executive Order, etc).

There are approximately 5,034 seats across those boards (some boards have a range of total members - for example GACRE is authorized to have 15-20 seats; we've filled 16 for now). Those seats are generally staggered, and on average we make 800+ appointments a year.

There are approximately 235 people who are currently serving in terms that expired on June 30, 2018 or earlier. With 800 seats to fill, it's very tough to get them all done before June. Some of these we are actively working on and will be announced soon.

Some are hard to fill and we have been recruiting for months/years. For example, locating a corn producer/exporter who wants to serve, or a water well systems provider, or a doctor who can perform acupuncture (If you know any of these, let me know!). The list goes on.

Some we are waiting on nominations (e.g. we have been waiting on the General Assembly to provide nominations to the Tobacco Commission for months; we finally heard last week that they would like to nominate the two producers currently serving for reappointment).

Some no longer have funding and/or the federal authority that necessitated the creation of the board is no longer active - the boards are still technically in existence but we are not currently appointing any members.

Hope that covers it. Let me and Ofirah know if you have further questions.

Kelly

Patrick,

Sorry for the delay; your email went to my spam folder.

I've attached applications, including resumes, for three of the individuals you've requested. Mr. Lofton has not submitted an application online at this time. This is actually not unusual to appoint an individual who does not have an application in our system. Mr. Lofton was nominated by the Chesapeake Bay Foundation and I have attached that letter.

You didn't ask for it, but in the spirit of giving, I'll note that Ms. Jasinski has one additional application on file from 2014. The attached application from Ms. Kapur was submitted in 2015.

I'm not redacting personal contact information, though anticipate that you will be respectful of that information and not share it publicly.

Also, you'll notice that one thing our database does not do well, unfortunately, is print applications. For some reason, if there is a lot of information included in the employment experience section, it cuts off the sections below that when it prints. I took a screen shot of the information that got cut off of page 2 and included that in a word document.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Kelly

Hey Ofirah,

Since the new air board members aren't being seated yet, is it the position of the governor's office that the old board members would or wouldn't remain on the board?

Someone referred me to the attached AG's opinion that "a member of a state board or commission holds over after the conclusion of his term and may continue to serve in his office and execute the full range of duties of that office until the qualification of his successor." From what I have been able to glean, a successor would be qualified once they are sworn in.

Appreciate any clarity you can provide.

What day were Gail Bush and Kajal Kapur interviewed for the air board? Was that in person or by phone or some other method? And who did the interviewing on behalf of the Northam administration?

What day were each of them notified that they were being appointed? Was it last Thursday, Nov. 15th?

As you may remember, I have a lot of interest and expertise in issues related to children's environmental health in general and air pollution and climate change more specifically.

I have applied for a position on the VA Natural Resources State Air Pollution Control Board. Is there some way that Ralph can support my application?

Hey Ofirah,

Since the new air board members aren't being seated yet, is it the position of the governor's office that the old board members would or wouldn't remain on the board?

Someone referred me to the attached AG's opinion that "a member of a state board or commission holds over after the conclusion of his term and may continue to serve in his office and execute the full range of duties of that office until the qualification of his successor." From what I have been able to glean, a successor would be qualified once they are sworn in.

Appreciate any clarity you can provide.

Re: Nomination for Members of the Virginia State Water Control Board

Dear Secretary Thomasson:

It is my understanding that a position on the Virginia State Water Control Board will be available at the end of June 2018. I respectfully request that you consider the following candidates for appointment to the board: Mr. Kimball Payne, Mrs. Paula Jasinski and Mr. Richard Parrish.

Mr. Payne served as the Lynchburg City Manager for over 15 years, and has held prior positions as Spotsylvania County Administrator, as President of the Virginia Local Government Manager's Association, and as a Naval Officer. Mrs. Jasinski is the founder and Science Director at Green Fin Studio, and has expertise in coastal policy, fisheries management, climate research and adaptation planning, having served previously as Virginia Program Manager at NOAA and as a member of the Virginia Governor's Commission on Climate Change. Mr. Richard Parrish has more than 30 years of experience as an environmental attorney, most recently retired from the Southern Environmental Law Center where he represented clients on a range of water quality issues in Virginia.

Through their active involvement and public service in the Commonwealth, these accomplished individuals have demonstrated their knowledge of water quality and regulatory issues. I am confident that any of these candidates would be a great asset to the State Water Control Board and provide an experienced and well-rounded perspective in the Board's efforts. Thank you for your thoughtful consideration.

Respectfully,

William H. Street
Chief Executive Officer

Subject: statement

To: Yheskel, Ofirah <ofirah.yheskel@governor.virginia.gov>

Here's the statement from Rebecca Rubin; would appreciate any comment:

I believe that the Commonwealth has an affirmative duty to hold itself to the highest standards of ethics and due process on behalf of its citizens. As such, the timing here was very unfortunate, coming as it did just prior to such a crucial vote, and interrupting as it has an in-depth review, by an intact board, of the record and two days of hearings – knowledge that is both fundamental to a responsible vote and irreplaceable.

Given that the original vote was to have taken place on November 9, and given that one of the Board's key purposes in postponing that vote was to have much-needed time to assimilate and reflect upon the information provided to it throughout two days of hearings so as to arrive at a fully informed conclusion, it would be more logical, much less disruptive of due process, and far more protective of the Commonwealth's overall interest - now and for the future - to allow those same board members who were already involved in the process to proceed to vote as planned.

I believe that the breach of due process is fully repairable, and that it is well within the power of the Commonwealth to allow the regular process to continue such that the terms of Sam Bleicher and I would conclude only after a board vote on the compressor station has occurred.

To: Yheskel, Ofirah <Ofirah.Yheskel@governor.virginia.gov>

Hey Ofirah,

Since the new air board members aren't being seated yet, is it the position of the governor's office that the old board members would or wouldn't remain on the board?

Someone referred me to the attached AG's opinion that "a member of a state board or commission holds over after the conclusion of his term and may continue to serve in his office and execute the full range of duties of that office until the qualification of his successor." From what I have been able to glean, a successor would be qualified once they are sworn in.

Appreciate any clarity you can provide.

Greetings:

I hope I'm posing a question no one else has asked; at least I haven't seen it addressed elsewhere. The folks that the governor replaced on the air board -- their terms ended some time ago but they continued on the board. Why does Virginia law allow that? Why weren't the seats simply vacant once their terms expired? If I'm renting an apartment and my lease ends on a certain date, the landlord's not likely to let me stay there beyond that date. So, curious minds . . .

Just wanted to clarify a couple pieces on the air/water board appointments:

- When did the governor decide to make new picks for the Air Board? In June or more recently?
- Do you have a board vacancy notification that went out in June or at any other point after their terms expired?

Thanks,

Hello Secretary Thomasson,

In light of the attention on the air board, I'm trying to make sure I understand how to interpret the list of vacant board and commission positions on your website.

By my count, there are 174 vacancies listed for terms that have already expired, most of them on June 30 of this year. Would it be correct to conclude from that there are 174 people still serving whose terms are technically expired?

And do you have a total count for how many board and commission positions there are across all agencies and secretariats?

Thanks in advance,

Patrick,
Sorry for the delay; your email went to my spam folder.

I've attached applications, including resumes, for three of the individuals you've requested. Mr. Lofton has not submitted an application online at this time. This is actually not unusual to appoint an individual who does not have an application in our system. Mr. Lofton was nominated by the Chesapeake Bay Foundation and I have attached that letter.

You didn't ask for it, but in the spirit of giving, I'll note that Ms. Jasinski has one additional application on file from 2014. The attached application from Ms. Kapur was submitted in 2015.

I'm not redacting personal contact information, though anticipate that you will be respectful of that information and not share it publicly.

Also, you'll notice that one thing our database does not do well, unfortunately, is print applications. For some reason, if there is a lot of information included in the employment experience section, it cuts off the sections below that when it prints. I took a screen shot of the information that got cut off of page 2 and included that in a word document.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Kelly

Re: Nomination for Members of the Virginia State Water Control Board

Dear Secretary Thomasson:

It is my understanding that a position on the Virginia State Water Control Board will be available at the end of June 2018. I respectfully request that you consider the following candidates for appointment to the board: Mr. Kimball Payne, Mrs. Paula Jasinski and Mr. Richard Parrish.

Mr. Payne served as the Lynchburg City Manager for over 15 years, and has held prior positions as Spotsylvania County Administrator, as President of the Virginia Local Government Manager's Association, and as a Naval Officer. Mrs. Jasinski is the founder and Science Director at Green Fin Studio, and has expertise in coastal policy, fisheries management, climate research and adaptation planning, having served previously as Virginia Program Manager at NOAA and as a member of the Virginia Governor's Commission on Climate Change. Mr. Richard Parrish has more than 30 years of experience as an environmental attorney, most recently retired from the Southern Environmental Law Center where he represented clients on a range of water quality issues in Virginia.

Through their active involvement and public service in the Commonwealth, these accomplished individuals have demonstrated their knowledge of water quality and regulatory issues. I am confident that any of these candidates would be a great asset to the State Water Control Board and provide an experienced and well-rounded perspective in the Board's efforts. Thank you for your thoughtful consideration.

Respectfully,

William H. Street

Founder & Science Director. Green Fin Studio, 2007-present

Founded Chesapeake Environmental Communications, now DBA, Green Fin Studio to empower environmental messages through creative communications, strategic marketing and meaningful stakeholder engagement. Professional expertise includes strategic marketing, public outreach, environmental education, ecotourism, long-term ecosystem management, and combining economic development with environmental restoration. Ongoing and recent project include:

- Collaborative NOAA-funded "Changing Chesapeake" project to develop range of communication and education products that describe how climate has changed in the Chesapeake Bay region over the last 115 years, and the resulting impacts. Includes developing the narrative storylines and graphics to clearly present facts in broadly engaging and accessible ways. Worked closely with a team of scientists to analyze data and identify trends, while also working closely with professional educators to develop interactive education tools;
- Overseeing development of an EPA-funded, multi-state, multi-partner project to create consistency among more than 400 small-scale water quality monitoring programs and pull that data into an online repository to complement federally collected data;
- Facilitated a multi-agency workgroup to assess the impacts of Virginia's offshore wind energy development to fishermen and fishing industry, and make recommendations on best management practices to the lease holder, Dominion Energy;
- Envisioned and developed interactive book on Chesapeake Bay science and management implications for interested public and another for high school science teachers and students (available for free download on iTunes- bit.ly/chesbayatlaste) ; and
- Multi-faceted stakeholder engagement project with Chesapeake Bay commercial watermen to inform development of online harvest reporting tools and training information. Efforts far surpassed goals and resulted in a 250% increase in online interaction.

February 2008-December 2008. Virginia Governor's Commission on Climate Change.

Supported the Virginia Commission on Climate Change on a nine-month detail from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) to Virginia's Secretary of Natural Resource. Detail included the following responsibilities: provide research and scientific assessments to the Commission on climate change impacts to infrastructure, human health, and natural resources; staff the Adaptation and Sequestration Workgroup; develop recommended actions for Virginia in preparation for the likely impacts of climate change; coordinate with regional academics, industry groups, federal and state governments, and NGOs to include various perspectives and information; build consensus among workgroup members; and author sections of the final report to the Commission.

2002-2010. Fisheries Biologist and Virginia Program Manager, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA)

Managed Virginia Program activities for NOAA's Chesapeake Bay Office (NCBO) to more effectively connect NOAA with projects and emerging issues in the lower Bay. Projects ranged from coastal policy and management, climate research and adaptation planning, fisheries management and research, oyster restoration and aquaculture, educational activities and professional event planning. Worked with constituents from federal, state, local government, academia, private industry, and non-profits to forge partnerships and develop collaborative projects. Led NOAA's response to President Obama's Executive Order on Chesapeake Bay Protection and Restoration for climate change impacts and adaptive responses, and managed an interagency team for a federally coordinated climate change response plan.

Greetings,

Virginia Clinicians for Climate Action is an organization comprised of over 200 health clinicians from across the commonwealth focused on solutions to the impacts of climate change on Virginians' health.

We understand there are some upcoming vacancies on the State Air Pollution Control Board effective July 1, 2018.

We would like to support the appointment of Gail Bush to one of the open seats.

Gail has been a long time advocate for clean air including several years on the American Lung Associations Mid-Atlantic Chapter Board of Directors.

Her resume is attached.

Please advise if there are steps we can take to assist the nomination process of Gail Bush to the Air Pollution Control Board.

Thank you,

Ben Hoyne

Kajal B. Kapur, Ph.D.

Synopsis

Dr. Kapur, Principal of Kapur Energy Environment Economics, LLC (KEEE) received a Ph.D. in Economics from Cornell University in 1990 with a major in Industrial Organization. As part of her Ph.D. dissertation, she performed econometric analyses of one hundred and six manufacturing industries. She modeled changes in market structure and profit adjustments for these industries. She has consulted on economic, policy, regulatory and environmental issues for more than twenty years. She is assisting EPA's Office of Air Quality and Planning Standards (OAQPS) with economic analyses of air pollution control regulations. She has helped the City of Charlottesville, County of Albemarle and University of Virginia evaluate energy conservation options. She has analyzed favorable state, utility level funds, grants, loans and rebates that have resulted in the installation of Combined Heat and Power (CHP) systems for EPA's CHP partnership. She has provided expert advice on economic and financial issues related to small hydroelectric power plants and the carbon emission reduction potential of these plants for Kenya Tea Development Agency's study.

Dr. Kapur has conducted cost-benefit analyses of energy efficiency, renewable energy, distributed generation and other green programs. She has participated in regulatory hearings as an economics, energy efficiency, resource planning and clean air compliance expert on behalf of state consumer counselor offices. She developed a report for EPA's Combined Heat and Power Partnership on Utility Incentives for Combined Heat and Power systems. Dr. Kapur conducted the research and analysis and completed the 30 page report in four weeks. Dr. Kapur is assisted in her studies and analyses by Research Analysts with economics, environmental backgrounds and experience in policy issues.

Education

- Ph.D., Economics, Cornell University, 1990
- M.A., Economics, Cornell University, 1989
- M.A., Economics, University of California, Davis, 1986
- B.A. (Honors), Economics, University of Delhi, India, 1984.

Professional Experience

- Conducting an Economic Impact Study (EIS) for Paul D. Camp Community College (PDCCC). The EIS will assess the economic importance, leakages and ripple effects of the College on its service region.
- Helped Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), Office of Air Quality and Planning Standards (OAQPS) with economic analyses of air pollution control regulations. Conducted updates of Industry Profiles for Regulatory Impact Analysis documents related to EPA revisions of Maximum Achievable Control Technology (MACT) standards and New Source Performance Standards (NSPS). Assisted EPA's OAQPS with updates of manufacturing industries such as wood, paper, chemicals, petroleum and coal products, electric utilities and brick. Helped EPA assess the economic impact of regulations on small and large entities.
- Helped the City of Richmond develop a Sustainability Plan through engagement with City experts and the community as a whole along with prime contractor VHB, Inc. Assisted in identifying focus areas for the Plan. Developed goals and actions and metrics to measure progress on goals. Identified and analyzed energy conservation, green building and alternative energy initiatives. Facilitated input from Richmond stakeholders, community members and City executives to identify energy initiatives. Helped develop a methodology to rank these initiatives and an implementation strategy and write the Plan for City review and comments. Helped conduct Life Cycle Cost Studies for ten energy efficiency and renewable energy initiatives and cost analyses for Economic Development, Open Space & Land Use initiatives.

- Supported the City of Charlottesville and Albemarle County with the Local Climate Action Planning Process (LCAPP) goal of lowering greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. Participated in an Energy Conservation Working Group to delineate goals and develop plans and strategies for lowering emissions from energy use. Helped place those plans within a mitigation matrix that ranked the strategies according to criteria such as GHG reduction, cost, return on investment and impacts like job and employment creation
- Provided General Support to EPA's Combined Heat and Power (CHP) Partnership. Offered technical advice to CHP Partnership on specific opportunities, projects, or state policy conditions related to CHP in the utilities sector; assisted in developing technical materials for stakeholders in these markets; helped with market engagement activities such as meetings, networking and communications; providing outreach to stakeholders.
- Developed a report for EPA's Combined Heat and Power (CHP) Partnership (CHPP). Analyzed favorable utility policies that have resulted in the installation of CHP systems by utility customers; prepared case studies of successful utility support of CHP technologies including local utility financing of these projects. Examined utility actions resulting from state policies to promote CHP for achieving greenhouse gas (GHG) reduction goals and in-state energy resource development objectives.
- Provided economics and financial expertise for Kenya Tea Development Agency's (KTDA) Integrated Energy Management Feasibility Study funded by United States Trade and Development Agency (USTDA). Conducted economic and financial analyses of nine small hydropower plants. Researched United Nations Environment Program/Global Environment Facility UNEP/GEF Greening Projects to understand the financing available for small hydro plants in Kenya. Determined payback periods, rates of return and net present values for the projects at different electricity prices and developed a report based on this analysis. Made recommendations about hydro power electricity pricing to tea factories.
- Provided technical support to the Office of People's Counsel (OPC), District of Columbia. Assisted the OPC in development of the case against Potomac Electric Power Company's (Pepco) requested rate increase in a District of Columbia Public Service Commission (DCPSC) rate case. Evaluated the conceptual justification and quantification of Pepco's repression (revenue) adjustment, an adjustment to reflect the price elasticity of demand for electricity. Studied DCPSC guidelines for the validity and reliability of a proposed price elasticity of demand estimate, including guidelines on economic models and methodology used. Examined Pepco's method to calculate the price elasticity of demand and justification for its estimate.
- Helped the Attorney General of Kentucky evaluate the Integrated Resource Plan of a Transmission and Distribution (T&D) Cooperative. Reviewed the utility's load forecasting, demand side, supply side and environmental compliance modeling efforts. Commented on the cooperative's integrated resource planning process including the identification and screening of supply side options; treatment of demand side management alternatives; conduct of sensitivity and risk analysis; incorporation of transmission options into the planning process.
- Participated in a settlement process for the approval of Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Company's demand side management plan on behalf of the Indiana Consumer Counselor's office.

The process included the planning, design, implementation and evaluation of residential, commercial and industrial conservation programs.

- Participated in a Settlement process for the approval of Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Company's Clean Air Compliance Plan on behalf of the Indiana Consumer Counselor's office. Analyzed the impact of Clean Air Act Amendments on resource planning. Studied Indiana requirements for the approval of an environmental compliance plan to determine whether the utility's plan met those requirements.
- Lecturer for the Manager Development Education Program in electric utility business practices, presented by Global Change Associates' Energy & Environment College. Trained Korean management personnel on topics related to customer satisfaction, education strategies, product differentiation and pricing of services. Explained the difference between pricing electric power in a regulated versus deregulated market, new pricing mechanisms used in competitive markets and the differences in pricing methods. Discussed the implications of competitive pricing including economic development rates, green pricing and distributed power.
- Directed a settlement process for the approval of Indianapolis Power and Light's (IPL) demand side management plan on behalf of the Indiana Consumer Counselor's office. The goal of the settlement process was to understand IPL's residential, commercial and industrial programs to reach a reasonable agreement. The process included the planning, design, implementation and marketing of these programs.
- Provided expertise to a major Midwest utility's restructuring project. Helped the utility develop a Promotional Strategy for the company's energy efficiency programs, renewable energy/distributed power options and other environmental stewardship efforts. Performed an economic analysis to show the benefits of these programs in terms of lower costs, additional markets, customer satisfaction and product line extension. Helped the company understand how alternate sources of energy such as renewable energy, distributed power and energy efficiency can lower energy costs and increase customer loyalty given the restructuring of the electric industry in Illinois.
- Helped Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), Office of Air and Radiation, Climate Protection Partnership Division with reviewer comments on Clean Energy-Environment Guide to Action. Compiled comments on the institutional, regulatory and market barriers that prevent the adoption of energy efficiency, renewable energy and combined heat and power resources and best practices to overcome these barriers at the state level.
- Reviewed PSI Energy's energy conservation implementation/evaluation activities for Indiana Consumer Counselor's Office. Examined PSI Energy's annual updates related to the implementation of its demand side management programs including information on program costs, monitoring/evaluation of results, participation rates, demand/energy impacts, lost revenue and shared savings incentive projections and reconciliations.
- Examined PSI Energy's Clean Air Compliance Plan for the Indiana Consumer Counselor office. The Plan included environmental dispatch, demand side management programs, coal switching, installation of scrubber and purchase/banking of emission allowances. Determined if PSI explored all possible Clean Air options and whether the Plan was least-cost.
- Studied Indianapolis Power and Light's (IPL) Integrated Resource Plan on behalf of the Indiana Consumer Counselor's office. Examined the company's demand side management and supply side activities.

LEGAL EXPERIENCE

Federal Aviation Administration, Washington, DC 2016 to Present

Assistant Chief Counsel for Airports and Environmental Law

Lead the Airports and Environmental Law Division in the Office of Chief Counsel.

- Establish legal strategies for all agency environmental programs and resolve legal issues raised by multibillion-dollar airport improvement program.
- Cultivate relationships with stakeholders, including state and local governments, to ensure consistent and appropriate enforcement of all related rules and regulations.
- Oversee training for the Office of Chief Counsel, ensuring access to and effectiveness of programs for 200-lawyer staff in areas such as trial advocacy, writing, communication skills, and litigation.
- Secured one of the best records among federal agencies for defense of its airport and environmental decisions in federal court through partnership with the US. Department of Justice.

United States Department of Justice, Washington, DC 1990–2016

Environmental and Natural Resources Division, Environmental Enforcement Section

Counsel to the Chief (2010-2016), Senior Counsel (1997–2010), Trial Attorney (1990–1997)

Represented the United States in complex environmental matters, including serving as lead counsel in litigation. Supervised and directed teams through all stages of litigation. Provided guidance to senior government officials on the enforcement implications of draft government policies and regulations.

- Managed the Power Plants Litigating Group, a staff of trial lawyers who brought enforcement cases against electric utilities for violations of the Clean Air Act, securing billions of dollars in civil penalties, injunctive relief and environmental projects.
- Served as senior litigator in the largest environmental settlement in history in United States v. AEP; worked with all parties to create a mutually acceptable agreement for $4.6 billion in injunctive relief and emission reductions of 800,000 tons annually.
- Successfully litigated landmark case in United States v. Fisher, the first case tried under the National Marine Sanctuary Act.
- Successfully negotiated settlement for the largest Superfund site in Virginia, the Avtex Fibers Site in Front Royal Virginia.

On behalf of the Chesapeake Bay Foundation (CBF), I am writing to offer our strong support for the following individuals for appointments to the State Water Control Board. As openings become available on this citizen board, CBF believes these individuals would serve the Commonwealth as well-qualified, reasoned, and devoted citizen advisors. While brief biographies of each recommendation are included here, we have also enclosed their more detailed resumes for further review.

James A. Lofton

Mr. Lofton has more than 25 years of experience working on behalf of the environment. For more than two decades, he served in the Environmental and Natural Resources Division, Environmental Enforcement Section of the Department of Justice as Counsel to the Chief, Senior Counsel, and Trial Attorney, and strove to build common ground among stakeholders to resolve complex environmental issues. He has secured victories in multibillion-dollar environmental cases and has trained hundreds of U.S. Department of Justice attorneys at the National Advocacy Center. Mr. Lofton currently works for the Federal Aviation Administration as the Assistant Chief Counsel for Airports and Environmental Law.

Mr. Lofton was an Atlantic Fellow in Public Policy at Cambridge University, a Fulbright Scholar in Turkey teaching environmental law, and an adjunct professor at Washington & Lee teaching environmental law. He is also a member of the Virginia Army National Guard and U.S. Army National Reserve. He received his B.A. from VMI and J.D. from University of Richmond.

Stella Koch

Ms. Koch resides in Great Falls and is Chair of the Fairfax County Environmental Quality Advisory Council, an appointed board which advises the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors. Ms. Koch has also served as past chair and present board member of the Northern Virginia Regional Park Authority and the Virginia League of Conservation Voters Education Fund. Before retiring in 2015, Ms. Koch worked for the Audubon Naturalist Society as its Virginia Conservation Associate for more than 20 years. Prior to her tenure with Audubon Society, she was a biology teacher in Washington, D.C., receiving the National Association of Biology Teachers Outstanding Biology Teacher of the Year Award in 1989. Ms. Koch has a B.S. degree in Biology from the University of Maryland and a M.A. degree in Education from Catholic University.

Chesapeake Bay Senior Scientist and consultant to EPA's Chesapeake Bay Monitoring, Modeling, Toxics, and Living Resources Programs. He subsequently transitioned to the Chesapeake Bay TMDL program and successfully managed DEQ's Monitoring and Assessment Programs. During his state service, Dr. Butt gained expertise in a variety of watershed issues including water quality and standards development, TMDLs, permits, stormwater, toxics, living resources (including harmful algal blooms), and modeling.

Prior to 1988, Dr. Butt consulted on a wide variety of water quality and infrastructure projects, with special knowledge in seaport systems management, including dredging and Craney Island; water contamination and supply; fisheries, including oysters and harmful algal blooms; stream and wetland mitigation and restoration; permit management; and Environmental Impact Reports in Florida and Virginia.

Dr. Butt holds his doctorate degree in Fisheries Oceanography with a minor in Seaport Systems Management from Old Dominion University, and a M.S. in Marine Science and Wetland Ecology from University of West Florida.

In addition, CBF also strongly supports the re-appointment of Roberta Kellam to the State Water Control Board, as she has provided excellent advice and guidance on water-quality issues during her current tenure and provides a valuable voice representing citizens from Virginia's Eastern Shore.

We thank you for considering CBF's recommendations. Service on this Board is essential to the preservation of water quality and related environmental resources, and it demands work and commitment. We recognize the long service of Board Chair Robert Dunn in this regard.

Secretary Thomasson,

I am an environmental law professor at UVA Law School, and Director of the Environmental and Regulatory Law Clinic at UVA. I am interested in volunteering to serve on a governor-appointed board or commission. Nikki Rovner at TNC suggested I reach out to you. My resume is attached, and a narrative bio is online here: www.law.virginia.edu/fac/caj5f. I've also submitted my materials through the online portal on the appointments page.

My expertise is probably most applicable to the State Air Pollution Control Board, although I would happily consider other positions as well. The Virginia Outdoors Foundation, the Board of Conservation and Recreation, and the Virginia Offshore Wind Development Authority are all appealing. I might also be interested in the Virginia Nuclear Energy Consortium Authority and Virginia Solar Energy Development and Energy Storage Authority. Of course, I would be happy to consider other needs as they arise.

Thanks for your consideration,

Cale

The Hon. Levar Stoney
Secretary of the Commonwealth
P.O. Box 2454
Richmond, VA 23218

Dear Secretary Stoney:

We are writing to share our enthusiastic recommendation for Dr. Jalonne White-Newsome to be appointed to the Air Pollution Control Board.

As you know, the Air Board will have a critical role to play in developing and approving Virginia's approach for compliance with the Clean Power Plan. The Air Board may ultimately determine whether Virginia steps forward to be a champion in reducing carbon pollution, or whether we fall behind and surrender the mantle of clean energy leadership to other states.

Dr. White-Newsome stood out to us for her expertise, commitment to environmental justice, and ability to value a wide array of perspectives. She has worked for regulated industries like Ferro Corporation, a manufacturer of ceramics, enamels, and other coatings. She is also familiar with academic and non-governmental organizations, having taught at George Washington University and earned a fellowship from the Union of Concerned Scientists. Perhaps most notably, she appreciates the hard work of DEQ staff, having herself worked for the Maryland Department of the Environment.

As is evident from her resume, Dr. White-Newsome is a bridge builder. With her husband, she co-founded a consulting firm, Empowering a Green Environment and Economy, Inc.—a firm whose very name echoes Governor McAuliffe's emphasis on clean-energy job creation. We are confident that Dr. White-Newsome would add immense value to the Air Board.

Dear Governor Northam:

I strongly recommend that Andrew Reighart of Arlington be considered for appointment to the Air Pollution Control Board.

Andrew serves as a policy analyst within the Environmental Protection Agency's Office of Air and Radiation, Clean Air Markets Division, Market Operations Branch. In this role, he develops technical and policy analyses, tools, and documents that support regulatory development, reporting and implementation of regulations such as Title IV of the Clean Air Act (CAA) and the Cross-State Air Pollution Rule (CSAPR), seeking to limit sulfur dioxide, oxides of nitrogen, ozone, and particulate matter pollution in order to encourage nationwide attainment of the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS). His position requires him to maintain highly effective professional relationships with EPA Regional offices and other EPA offices, state and local agencies, and interested parties outside of the government on regulatory and policy issues related to the operating permits programs.

Prior to becoming a career civil servant, Andrew amassed significant clean air and energy policy experience from academia, several federal agencies, and a regional non-profit. Andrew graduated summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa from St. Mary's College of Maryland, completing a Bachelor of Arts degree in public policy and political science with minors in biology, environmental studies, economics, and French. As an undergraduate student, Andrew served as student body president and student government senator, during which time, he advocated for the creation of and served on the board of the college's green revolving loan fund, which sought to invest in on-campus renewable energy generation and energy efficiency initiatives. While completing a study abroad semester in Paris, France, Andrew also worked full-time tracking green growth, energy and environment affairs at the Organization for Economic Co-Operation and Development (OECD) through the U.S. Mission to the OECD. He later joined EPA's Office of Global Affairs and Policy as a Greater Research Opportunities Fellow, where he advanced cooperation on a multilateral finance initiative aimed at cutting black carbon pollution. His thesis focused on comparing national, state, and local carbon dioxide pollution pricing mechanisms in order to make recommendations for a federal carbon pricing policy with design features that would best attract broad, bipartisan political support.

After completing his undergraduate education, Andrew went on to complete his Master's of Public Policy degree from the University of Maryland School of Public Policy, where he specialized in environmental policy and wrote a capstone paper on the climate ramifications of liberalizing U.S. export policy on liquefied natural gas. Additionally, he completed significant research projects on the climate impacts stemming from gold mining-related deforestation in Peru and palm oil-related deforestation in Indonesia. As a graduate student, Andrew also worked for both the State Department's Bureau of Energy Resources and the U.S. Treasury's Office of Environment and Energy on projects related to clean energy finance. He also supported Dr. Elisabeth Gilmore's research on the economic cost of human mortality and morbidity stemming from climate change for the U.S. Global Change Research Program and prepared Dr. Nathan Hultman for public appearances on major news networks to help explain EPA emissions standards for new coal and natural gas plants that were announced under the Obama administration.

After earning his Masters, and immediately prior to starting his career at the EPA, Andrew worked as a fellow of the non-profit Chesapeake Climate Action Network, where he analyzed the economic and health impacts associated with Virginia's Clean Power Plan targets, conducted research on the intersections between climate change and urban poverty, and examined how increasing energy renewable generation could yield improvements in grid reliability.

Andrew possesses a deep understanding of the nexus between clean air and energy policies and the adverse economic and social impacts stemming from air pollution through a multitude of experiences that cover the public, non-profit, and academic sectors. He also has a record of successful leadership and superior academic achievement.

I renew my recommendation that Andrew Reighart be appointed to the Air Pollution Control Board.

Sincerely,

Meryem,

I think it would be helpful to have a follow-up meeting with Matt next week/when he has time soon (re: Air & Water boards). Can you and Courtney please figure out a time?

Thanks!

Meryem,

Can we get back on the schedule to talk about Air & Water boards? Remember we canceled last week and gave him the folder of info to review instead; but need to get together to discuss the folder and make decisions!

Thanks!
